

Description

ePulse Messenger is a new generation of simple yet powerful web-based instant messenger application specifically designed for growing Internet communities. ePulse have made this powerful messaging application available free of charge to qualifying businesses.

This commercial grade application is hosted directly on the global Internet backbone for optimum performance.

The application offers greatly improved forms of communications to progressive businesses by enabling presence based conversations on a one-to-one or one-to-many basis. The powerful yet simple group messaging functionality provides privacy of conversations across a wide audience with all messages held on group centric windows.

The product is provided with a presence based on-line directory that makes it easy to subscribe to valuable new business contacts and thereby grow your own business community on a global basis using the fast and easy registration and approval system.

For businesses wishing to develop their own private communities, ePulse messenger is available as a corporate branded product with full maintenance and support. This can be customized to the customer's specifications.

The product is also available on a sub-license basis for clients and corporate companies that wish to host it on their own private networks and data centres.

ePulse also offers customised development to meet specific corporate requirements. Examples of customised software development include:

- Real-time or delayed streaming prices from financial markets or other sources
- Order input and routing
- Any other compatible plug-ins

- Customised Private Directory
- Data centre hosting
- Maintenance and support of customised solutions

Businesses requiring regulatory compliant audit systems for on-line storage and retrieval of messages, ePulse can offer an integral audit system that is capable of accessing short, medium and long term message trails on an online basis.

Browser Requirements

The application requires any Web browser capable of hosting Microsoft's Silverlight (version 3.5) we plug-in technology.
